2024 OASOTN Conference Presentation Summaries

Monday, May 6th

9:00 – 5:00

Pre-Conference Seminar — Introduction to Children with Problematic Sexual Behaviors, Safety Planning, Reunification, Caregiver Engagement and Ways to Move the State Forward in this Work

Andrew Monroe MSW, LICSW, LCSW

During this session participants will be able to describe guidelines and strategies to facilitate examining sexual behavior of children and distinguish typical and problematic sexual behavior, identify common misconceptions regarding children with problematic sexual behavior of youth, learn how choice of words can impact thoughts and behaviors when addressing problematic sexual behavior of youth, gain understanding of caregiver perspectives on strategies professionals can utilize to facilitate family engagement, learn about factors that impact placement decisions for children who have problematic sexual behavior, learn components of safety planning for children with problematic sexual behavior and how to address safety planning with families, and learn about strategies to enhance successful reunification of siblings.

Tuesday, May 7th

8:30 -- 10:15

Keynote — Safety, Healing & Hope in Sibling Sexual Abuse Work: Some Thoughts for Consideration

Andrew Monroe MSW, LICSW, LCSW

This session will teach participants how choice of words can impact thoughts and behaviors when addressing problematic sexual behavior of youth, what youth with lived experience wish they would have known prior to treatment, and components that may reduce likelihood of problematic sexual behaviors.

10:30 --12:00

T1 Assessment of Children and Adolescents with Problematic and/or Illegal Sexual Behaviors

Andrew Monroe MSW, LICSW, LCSW

In this presentation participants will learn about how school-age and adolescent assessments can be structured as well as learn at least two differences between school-age and adolescent assessments.

T2 Mind the Gap: Providing Developmentally Appropriate Interventions to Young Adults

Tamara Woods LCSW, CSOT

This presentation will explore the individuals that fall within the “gap” age range of 18-22 years old. These individuals are unique in that they are considered legal adults, but developmentally, may not be functioning at an adult level. Clinicians must consider these issues when identifying appropriate interventions. This presentation will briefly discuss the development of sexual schemas and maturity, focusing on the reality in which most of these young adults are living, such as influence of social media, lack of accurate information regarding sexual relationships and sex. Additionally, this presentation will discuss of the role that the broader United States culture and society has played in aiding or inhibiting the sexual development of young adults, how they interact with sexual partners as well as where they see themselves in the world of sexual activity. Finally, topics such as adjudication vs treatment and developmentally appropriate interventions will be shared, along with techniques of addressing sexual harm within this population.

	T3	So How Do We Know? Using Real Time Client Feedback to Guide Our Supervision John Lynch How do we know that we are building rapport, trust, and connection with clients? Do we use intuition? Guess work? Hope? Using Scott Miller’s Session Rating Scale (SRS) combined with the use of Motivational Interviewing (MI), participants will learn how to gauge, in real time, their effectiveness in relationship building. Participants will also see a case study over twelve meetings using the SRS and MI skills to determine whether these tools helped client success.
1:30 – 3:00	T4	Client Preparation for the Polygraph Exam – Part 1 Monty Buettner and Matthew Griffith NCC, LPC, CCSOT (LCPC-MT) Taking a polygraph exam can be very stressful, even for the truthful clients. We all hope for a passing polygraph by our clients, and proper preparation in advance of the exam can assist in getting there. Contrary to this, improper preparation can likely cause false positive or inconclusive results, even if the client is being truthful. All three testing types (Maintenance, Full Disclosure, & Single Issue) allows for the therapist or probation officer to assist the client with proper preparation for the exam. This session, presented by a Polygraph Examiner and a Therapist, will discuss the Do’s and Don’ts when preparing the client for the polygraph exam.
	T5	Parent Panel – Part 1 S. Kelly Crane LCSW, CCSOT and Brittney Reineke LPC, CCSOT Brittney Reineke, LPC, CCSOT from Higher Ground Counseling and S. Kelly Crane, LCSW, CCSOT from Sage House Counseling will be facilitating a Parent Panel. This panel will feature a cross section of parents with youth who have acted out sexually and have had diverse experiences in seeking help for their children. Parent representation will include families who engaged in community-based treatment and were involved in various county services, those whose youth were placed in programs and/or facilities and were involved with OYA, and those who did not enter a formal judicial proceeding but may have had involvement with DHS. Our parent panel will represent families impacted by sibling abuse, same age peer abuse, and family friend or other relative abuse. The session will begin with introductions and brief backgrounds of the families, followed by prepared questions from the facilitators to address various topics of interest to community partners working with these families.
3:30 – 5:00	T7	Client Preparation for the Polygraph Exam – Part 2 Monty Buettner and Matthew Griffith NCC, LPC, CCSOT (LCPC-MT) Continuation of T4
	T8	Parent Panel – Part 2 S. Kelly Crane LCSW, CCSOT and Brittney Reineke LPC, CCSOT Continuation of T5
5:30 – 7:00		OASOTN Meet & Greet Join the OASOTN Board at Sarver Winery for networking, wine and charcuterie. Transportation to and from the winery will be provided.

Wednesday, May 8th

8:45 – 10:15		Nurturing Resilience: A Journey Through Vicarious Trauma and Compassion Fatigue in the Helping Profession Julie Bitz Join me for a transformative 90-minute interactive plenary session delving into the occupational challenges faced by those in the helping profession. Vicarious Trauma and Compassion Fatigue are ever-present companions in our journey of support and empathy. In this session, we will unravel the sources and impact. Together, we will explore self-care techniques, gain personal insights and delve into healthy coping strategies. Let's craft individualized self-care plans to fortify ourselves against the toll of our noble work. Laughter is a potent medicine, so please bring your sense of humor! This session is not just about understanding the challenges; it's a practical journey towards resilience. Gain actionable insights, connect with fellow professionals, create opportunity, and leave armed with strategies to navigate the demanding landscape of the helping profession. Are you ready to embark on a journey of self-discovery and empowerment? Join me as we navigate the complexities with wisdom, humor, and resilience.
10:30 – 12:00	W1	Ethics of Pornography and Subcultural Sex – Part 1 Scott Elmore PsyD, LPC, CCSOT, Molly Shepard PhD, CCSOT, CFE and Sean Clark LPC, CCSOT This is a discussion-based presentation where we all explore our understanding of pornography and subcultural sex (kink, non-monogamy, etc.), the ethics within those topics, and how it relates to our work. Sexuality has shifted and grown throughout human history and continues to do so, particularly with the younger generation of youth who have pushed for sex positivity, explored alternate relationships, and increased immediate access to more sexual content than has ever existed on the devices in their pockets. As sexual expression has evolved, so too must we wrestle with our own understanding of “normal”, “atypical”, and “deviant” sexuality, especially as it relates to helping our clients develop healthy sexual futures.
	W2	Navigating Peer to Peer Sexual Assault Allegations in Forensic Interview and Criminal Investigation, Considerations and Challenges – Part 1 Nichole Schumann MS and Jennifer Wheeler LPC The training will provide participants with an understanding of how peer to peer sexual assault allegations differ from typical child sexual abuse cases. Through case examples and audience participation we will discuss the various ways that these cases present, gain an understanding of how teens talk about these experiences, and consider how to best serve these youth as an MDT. We will also discuss the challenges of assessing for abuse when the concerns involve sexual assault by a peer including consent, disclosure dynamics, involvement of substances, and trauma response.
1:00 – 2:30	W3	Ethics of Pornography and Subcultural Sex – Part 2 Scott Elmore PsyD, LPC, CCSOT, Molly Shepard PhD, CCSOT, CFE and Sean Clark LPC, CCSOT Continuation of W1
	W4	Navigating Peer to Peer Sexual Assault Allegations in Forensic Interview and Criminal Investigation, Considerations and Challenges – Part 1 Nichole Schumann MS and Jennifer Wheeler LPC Continuation of W2

Julie Bitz

Julie Bitz offers a unique blend of expertise, empathy, and a sincere desire to foster resilience within the helping profession. Her presentations are not just informative but also carry a heartfelt call to action for the well-being of those who tirelessly contribute to the betterment of our communities. Join Julie on a journey of insight, empowerment, and advocacy for our better selves.

With a career spanning over 25 years in the helping profession, Julie Bitz stands as a beacon of expertise and help for those helping others. Currently serving as the Wellness and Crisis Intervention Training Coordinator at the Clackamas County Sheriff's office, Julie brings a wealth of experience, insight, and a deep commitment to the well-being of those in the helping profession.

Julie's roles as a TEND Train the Trainer and a Trauma Informed Oregon Trainer exemplify her commitment to remaining at the forefront of knowledge in trauma-informed care. Prior to her role at the Sheriff's Office, she spent over two decades within the Oregon Juvenile Justice system. During this time, she served a Juvenile Court Counselor and contributed significantly to the field as a trainer for the Oregon Juvenile Department Director's Association (OJDDA). Julie earned her Bachelor's Degree with a double major in Criminal Justice and Substance Abuse. Her commitment to continuous learning is evident through her participation in national, state, and local trainings throughout her career.

Julie is dedicated to shedding light on the essential services and resources required by individuals who choose to work within the helping profession. Her keynote presentations not only reflect her extensive knowledge and experience but also carry a heartfelt commitment to supporting the well-being of those who tirelessly contribute to the betterment of society. As a seasoned professional, trainer, and advocate Julie brings a blend of expertise, empathy, and a genuine passion for fostering resilience within the helping profession.

John Lynch

John Lynch is the Manager of the Yamhill County Department of Community Justice's Juvenile Division. John has worked in the field of juvenile justice for 27 years and supervised a caseload of youth who have committed sexual offenses. John is a former OASOTN Board member and former OASOTN Board President.

Tamara Woods LCSW, CSOT

Tamara, also known as Mara, has been working in the field of sexual perpetuation and violence since 2018; her work began as a MSW intern, serving at the University of Oregon as a survivor advocate. Tamara moved on to become a budding therapist in a residential treatment facility for adjudicated adolescents with sexually harming behaviors where her passion for the subject of sexual misconduct and offending grew. Currently, Tamara serves as the Respondent Services Coordinator at the University of Oregon. Her work involves providing assessment, interventions, and consultation to university decision makers regarding students involved in Title IX investigations. In addition to her direct client work, Tamara provides consultation to other professionals across the country, advocacy for appropriate policy change and program development to agencies in the wider Oregon area. Tamara has the unique perspective of having worked with both victims and perpetrators of sexual violence as well as experience navigating the legal system as it relates to those adjudicated for sexual crimes. Tamara's philosophy surrounding her practice is to see the humanity in all her clients and that to curb sexual violence, in and outside of the legal system, understanding the individuals that cause harm is key.

Monty Buettner

Monty Buettner holds a bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice and Criminology, and is a retired Detective Sergeant, after 36 years of professional and ethically sound service. For 26 of those years Monty's primary duties included the investigation of sex crimes, the management of more than 100 registered sex offenders at any given time, and appointed Chairman of a Sex Offender Review Board. Monty has been trained as a forensic interviewer of children and over the past 41 years has conducted professional interviews of literally thousands of juvenile victims and juvenile offenders. Since 2007 Monty has been the owner/operator of Truth Verification Services LLC and has conducted more than 2300 polygraph exams. He is a licensed polygraph examiner in Oregon and travels throughout the State to provide exams. He has offices in both Portland OR and Stevenson WA. Monty is a Member in Good Standing with the American Polygraph Association, the American Association of Police Polygraphists, and the Northwest Polygraph Examiner's Association.

Matthew Griffith NCC, LPC, CCSOT (LCPC-MT)

Matthew Griffith NCC, LPC, CCSOT (LCPC-MT) is currently, working in private practice at Restored Outlook Counseling LLC. specializing in treating harmful sexual behaviors among adjudicated adolescents. Matthew lives in the beautiful state of Montana and provides treatment services to Oregon and Montana. Matthew's journey started as a Juvenile Probation Officer in Klamath County. After feeling not equipped enough to assist in encouraging behavioral change, Matthew enrolled in a graduate program in Clinical Counseling through Oregon State University. He learned to provide offense specific treatment through training at J Bar J Youth Services and H&H treatment programs. He has worked in the field since 2011, during this time Matthew has provided offense specific treatment to adults, juveniles, males and females within both an outpatient and in-patient treatment setting. Matthew obtained his Clinical Sex Offender Therapist Certification through the Oregon Board of Sex Offender Treatment; and he provides supervision for new sex offender therapists. He was part of a workgroup to help develop juvenile sex offender practicing standards and guidelines in Oregon. In his free time, he likes to... wait what free time.

S. Kelly Crane LCSW, CCSOT

Kelly is the current Past President for OASOTN and a Governor appointee to the SOTB. In her spare time, Kelly hangs out with her family including her two Czech Shepards: Chomsky and Piaget – where there is always a good debate!

Brittney Reineke LPC, CCSOT

Brittney earned a BA in Psychology and a Masters in Clinical Mental Health Counseling at Bushnell University. Brittney's experience includes working with at-risk youth since 2014. She has experience working in day treatment programs as well as outpatient settings. Brittney's areas of professional interest include sexualized behavior treatment, working with survivors of abuse and helping to provide holistic treatment while working to treat comorbid mental illnesses. Brittney is versed in working with children through adults, as well as facilitating group and family therapy, using a systemic approach. Brittney is currently a Clinical Supervisor at Higher Ground Counseling and serves on the Oregon Adolescent Sex Offense Treatment Network (OASOTN) Board.

Scott Elmore PsyD, LPC, CCSOT

I am Scott Elmore, PsyD, LPC, CCSOT, and have been practicing in Oregon since 2015 with youth and adults who present with sexually abusive behavior. I am the current OATSA board president. I also sit on the SOTB, the Offender Management Committee board, and am the OATSA liaison to the OASOTN board. I own Riverfront Mental Health in Salem where I am a sex offense provider. I have facilitated trainings at a variety of venues on topics related to sexual risk assessment and treatment.

Molly Shepard PhD, CCSOT, CFE

I am Molly Shepard, PhD, CCSOT and licensed psychologist. I primarily provide sexual offense-specific treatment and assessment services within the Oregon State Hospital's Sexual Offending Treatment Program. I also contract with Western Clinical and Forensic Services, completing pre-sentencing sexual risk mitigation evaluations. I'm an OATSA Board Member and routinely provide trainings regarding sexual risk and cultural inclusivity. I strive for patient-centered, trauma-informed, and culturally responsive approaches to treating and assessing individuals with sexual offense histories so as to mitigate future potential harm and enhance patients' mental and sexual well-being.

Sean Clark LPC, CCSOT

I am Sean Clark, LPC, CCSOT and OASOTN Board Member. I've been working within the field of illegal sexual behaviors for the last decade in residential and outpatient settings. I currently work at Higher Ground Counseling and previously presented at OASOTN on Pornography Literacy. I am motivated to help our field and our clients develop healthy sexual futures in an ever evolving and complicated world.
